

Violence has become all too common on TV. The V chip is a minimum step in preventing children from being exposed to what's on TV. I would like to see stronger gov't control over what is shown on TV.